

An Appeal

Dear Members and Well Wishers,

You are aware that Indian Science News Association (ISNA) is a historically important professional body of all the academicians belonging to various disciplines in our country since 1935. The rich legacy is being uninterruptedly continued till the present including the publication of its bi-monthly journal Science and Culture.

Perhaps you are also aware that this member-based Organization is passing through a serious financial constraint of running the normal activities due to lack of regular availability of fund.

In view of the above and in order to maintain regular academic activities we require substantial amount of fund to be generated for this purpose. Therefore, we make an urgent appeal to all concerned for donating some liberal contribution so that this heritage institution as well as its prestigious publications can be traditionally continued and the high acclaim that it has earned may be retained.
